Dr. Maria Montessori

Dr. Maria Montessori (1870–1952) was an Italian physician, educator and a pioneering force in early childhood education. Through careful scientific observation of children, she developed the Montessori Method, a child-centred approach that recognises children as active participants in their own learning.

Her philosophy places strong emphasis on independence, hands-on exploration, purposeful learning and respect for each child's individual pace and potential.

She believed that children flourish when given the freedom, guidance and environment to discover and develop naturally.

More than a century later, her timeless principles continue to inspire educators and shape learning environments across the world, influencing generations of children through a powerful vision of respectful, meaningful and purposeful education.
